

Green Business Practices

What does green mean to you?

To us it includes:

- ecology
- sustainability
- justice
- multiculturalism
- social equity
- culture
- community

Uploaded on August 7, 2008 by Martjusha
<http://flickr.com/photos/martjusha/2741003681/> (visited 2/26/2009)

Our green business practices:

- Local and Organic
- Bicycle, Pedestrian and Public Transit
- Recycling
- Partnerships with Green Businesses, Community Based Organizations and Non-Profits.

If we meet with you on site, we use alternatives to automobiles regularly and preferredly, whenever possible. We may travel by foot, bike, motorcycle, BART or AC Transit. We can't guarantee rollerblades or unicycles quite yet...but aerial drops and levitation are in the works.

We meet in public -- and invite you to use public transit when visiting. We support local and independent businesses -- there are many independent cafes in the Bay with wi-fi and quality, organic goodies. From artsy cafes to hidden teahouses, college hang outs and beer gardens, we'll find a place that works for you.

Many clients find this connection to community and "the real world" preferable to meeting in a business or home environment. For us, it's a way to introduce you to our community and a starting point for conversations about WHY and HOW we do business.